	This change application proposes to change a portion of the irrigation portion of this water right to be used for stock watering.
	All change applications must be reviewed to ensure that the net depletion to the hydrologic system is not enlarged and that other water rights are not impaired. The following is a depletion analysis for this change application.
	Historic Allowed Rate of Amount of Beneficial Use Diversion Depletion Depletion
	Irrigation of
	0.1375 acres 0.55 acre-feet 62.3125% 0.3427 acre-feet 1 Domestic 0.45 acre-feet 20.0% 0.09 acre-feet

Total Depletion = 0.4327 acre-feet

To calculate the diversion limitation based on the depletion of the water right, take the total amount of depletion, which is 0.4327 acre-feet, subtract the depletion for the domestic use (0.09 acre-feet), and then subtract the depletion amount for 6 livestock units (0.168 acre-feet, for six sheep, three goats, one cow, two horses, and 40 chickens) to get the remainder of 0.1747 acre-feet. Then divide 0.1747 acre-feet by 62.3125% to get 0.2804 acre-feet and then divide by 4.0 acre-feet per acre to get 0.0701 acres (or approximately 3,053 square-feet), which is the maximum that can be irrigated under this change application.
